THE POWER OF THE PLEDGE

Felt in chapels from Loyola Marymount to Boston College, from Campion to Spring Hill, a great hope and a sense of the possible emanate in the room when new inductees, led by Chapter presidents, stand and recite the Alpha Sigma Nu pledge. These new members promise “to do all this in light of the Jesuit concern for the greater glory of God,” pledging to use their intellect, experience, and heart in the service of faith and the promotion of justice.

When did you make your pledge? As the mission of Jesuit education has evolved over AΣN's 100 years, the pledge's focus has moved from an internal, campus focus to a wider commitment to caring for local and global communities. Early on, members pledged service to the university, promising “no fraternal interests or campus politics” would interfere with meeting their responsibilities as members. Later, members “promised to do all in my power – both now and in my subsequent career – to carry out the ideals...”

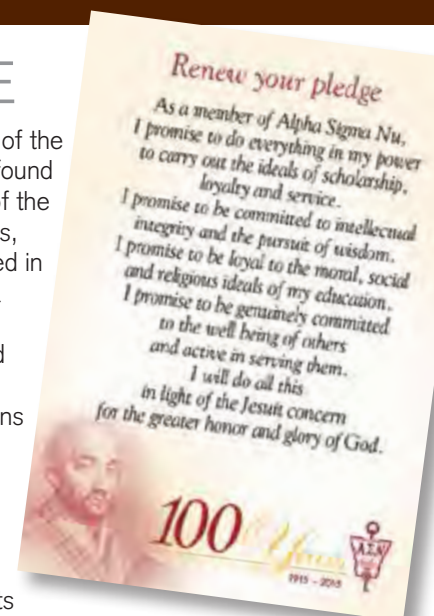

All versions have the essential pledge to scholarship, loyalty, and service over a lifetime with an emphasis on serving others. The pledge binds us all in heeding the call of St. Ignatius. As Pope Francis explained in 2013:

“In following what St. Ignatius teaches us, the main element ... is to learn to be magnanimous. What does being magnanimous mean? It means having a great heart, having greatness of mind; it means having great ideals, the wish to do great things to respond to what God asks of us.”

The foundation of the AΣN pledge is found in the mission of the Society of Jesus, “a mission rooted in the belief that a new world of justice, love and peace needs educated persons of competence, conscience and compassion... dedicated to the reform of society and its structures.” Today, the Jesuits look to all of us to be collaborators, not only because of their declining numbers but because of a renewed theological vision of mutuality and partnership with the people of God.

There is no better way to celebrate the Alpha Sigma Nu Centennial than to renew your pledge. The pledge is a challenge to ask these questions: How will I bear the name Jesuit? How will I collaborate? As Pope Francis might ask, how will I be magnanimous?

If you would like a laminated pledge card sent to you, send an email to Amy Venables O'Neil at amy.oneil@marquette.edu with your name and preferred mailing address.

MEMBER STORIES

THROUGH THE DECADES

Katherine A. Samuel (Scranton '10)

My favorite memory was the opportunity to work at an after school project in low-income housing during my time in AΣN. After, I worked in Harlem as a special education teacher. I used my experience to inform my daily work and instruction.

Robert J. Nikolai, PhD (Saint Louis '04) Honorary Inductee

My father became a member of Alpha Sigma Tau at Creighton University in May 1923. I have his membership certificate (and it is framed with mine).

Elizabeth G. Wylie, PhD (Seattle '79) Honorary Inductee

I became an honorary member of the Seattle University Chapter in 1979 after being asked to speak to a group of Alpha Sigma Nu students. I have remained, over the years, interested in Alpha Sigma Nu's scholarship programs. Above all else, education of our youngsters is the key to our futures.

Edward M. Griffin, PhD (U. of San Francisco '58)

At the University of San Francisco in 1958, the Rev. Paul Harney, Academic VP, used our AΣN Chapter as a student advisory board. What improvements did we want to see? One of our first recommendations was an expensive one. We told him that the main Liberal Arts building was a hideous pink color and an embarrassment to everyone.

John Plunkett (Loyola Maryland '48)

I recall the phone call from Ev Moen (Marquette '30) newly elected AΣN president, asking to meet for lunch so I could hear his plans for AΣN. They were ambitious. Ev arranged for a tax deduction for donations and the merger with Gamma Pi Epsilon. Some of the men protested that women are smarter than men and would soon outnumber them. From the pictures, it looks like about 10 to 5. I was secretary for all of my time on the Board, and the first trip to Milwaukee was my first plane ride.

Maggie Lund (Scranton '84)

As President of the AΣN Scranton Alumni Club, I spoke at the ceremony for new inductees. Slated to speak after the student officers, I remember being humbled by the evidence of their scholarship, loyalty, and service and that of the new inductees. I am honored to be a member. A copy of the pledge is on my desk at work where I renew it daily and pray that I live up to it with actions.

R. T. Ament (Creighton '60)

During my second year at Creighton, the Dean of the Business College stopped me and asked if I would accept a nomination to AΣN. I wasn't sure what it meant, but when I told my roommate he just said, "Wow!!" I had to borrow money from him for the initiation fee - a very proud moment in my life.

Sijoo Han (Sogang '15)

Sogang AΣN held a "Jesuit Week Quiz Event" last autumn. The quiz was about the philosophy of the Jesuits and the great achievement that Jesuit priests have made. All students in Sogang could participate, and the winner got a prize. As a main MC of the event, I felt honored to let more people know about the Jesuits and AΣN.

Robin Panlener (Marquette '68)

The morning of our acceptance into AΣN, I entered the room at Marquette's Brooks Memorial Union and saw I was the first to arrive. Soon after, another man appeared, Vince Lombardi (Marquette '68), coach of the Green Bay Packers. Shortly thereafter, my father, Richard J. Panlener (Marquette '33) entered, and I had the privilege of introducing Vince Lombardi to him. It was a special day.

Joseph Glas, PhD (Rockhurst '58)

Our daughter, Dr. Mary Glas Gaspers (Saint Joseph's '97) and her husband Mark Gaspers (Loyola Marymount '98) have three prospects, ages 6, 4, and 2 for third generation AΣNers.

Michael T. Kucharski (Loyola Chicago '89)

At the time of my nomination I was only concerned about making more money. Upon induction I found the value of leading by serving. This leadership servant value served me well in my professional and personal life. AΣN established my values in life for the future.

ALUMNI CLUBS ARE THRIVING

Alpha Sigma Nu Alumni Clubs had a great year, in part thanks to the addition of Amy Venables O'Neil to the Central Office team. Amy supports Alumni Clubs as part of her role as AΣN's Development Director. "Since November, I have had the pleasure to get to know our Alumni Club presidents through our monthly conference calls," Amy says. "I have been amazed to hear how Clubs continue to engage alumni and collaborate with student Chapters. These leaders volunteer their time to ensure the AΣN spirit lives on." The calls, which are facilitated by the AΣN Board Alumni Advisers Taylor Minervini (Loyola Maryland '06) and Anthony Giordano (Regis University '06), provide an opportunity for Clubs to share what they are doing, seek support from fellow Alumni Club presidents, and connect with the Central Office. The Clubs plan service projects, social events, networking opportunities, sponsor speakers, and so much more, all with a focus on the AΣN values.

Alpha Sigma Nu is most grateful for the Alumni Club presidents and boards for their leadership and loyalty. AΣN currently has active Clubs in Denver, Milwaukee, New York City, Los Angeles, Scranton, Cleveland, Washington, D.C., and Omaha. We are excited about the development of clubs in Chicago, Boston, San Francisco, and Detroit.

This year is a memorable year for AΣN, celebrating the Centennial and welcoming the 100th induction class. The Clubs invite recent AΣN graduates (and all members) to continue their AΣN connection, to mentor student members, and to participate in programs that facilitate their commitment to the Jesuit ideals. If you are looking for a Club in your area, please check our website for contact information at www.alphasigmanu.org/alumni/. If you are interested in the development of a Club, email Amy at amy.oneil@marquette.edu.

CHAPTER OF THE YEAR – FORDHAM UNIVERSITY

When Alpha Sigma Nu founded the Chapter of the Year Award, the purpose was twofold – to set expectations providing motivation for Chapter action and to reward the Chapter whose programming best embodies the tenets of scholarship, loyalty, and service in meaningful and innovative ways. Today we see an added bonus...Chapters outlining their programs enables all AΣN members to hear about the creativity, commitment, and generosity of today's Chapter members.

Congratulations to the Fordham University Alpha Sigma Nu Chapter, the 2014-15 Chapter of the Year. Led by officers Rachel Mae Aguilar (Fordham '14), Michael Charboneau (Fordham '14), Elizabeth Stevenson (Fordham '14), and Gianna Sciangula (Fordham '14), the Fordham Chapter set this goal at their first meeting: To build stronger awareness of AΣN while serving the community and interfacing with other campus organizations and those in the community. They then asked Philip Florio, SJ (Fordham '12), to launch the school year with a discussion on how to best take advantage of Fordham's curriculum in their senior year and how to apply Jesuit teaching to their post-graduate life.

The Chapter's projects were diverse and focused on AΣN tenets. Members collaborated with the Fordham Club for the Haunted House with P.O.T.S., a 'one-stop shop' helping low-income individuals and families in the Bronx move from crisis to self-sufficiency. Another Bronx-area effort found AΣN members supervising boys of the Crotona program (an after school program for boys) at St. Rose's Garden, a local community garden.

They joined forces with Fordham's Circle-K chapter for Thanksgiving Dinner at Rose Hill Apartments, preparing Thanksgiving dinner to residents at a Bronx low-income retirement home. Christmas time found the Chapter and the Fordham Choir at Murray-Weigel, Fordham's retired Jesuit nursing home. The choir caroled while AΣN provided baked goods and company to the retired Jesuits. The visit was so successful they returned in the spring for a campus walk with the Jesuits for more great conversation.

"Our members are the reason why our Chapter has been so successful this year. Attendees were fully engaged at the events, whether it was asking inquisitive questions at a networking panel, or playing with kids at a haunted house. Members benefited in different ways at each event - from learning how to market their Jesuit education to feeling like they helped bridge the gap between the Fordham community and Bronx families," explained Chapter President Rachel Aguilar.

Other programs included the first annual Fordham-wide Kan Jam Tournament benefitting a local charity; working at the food pantry at Lincoln Center's St. Paul the Apostle; coordinating the Alumni Networking Panel with AΣN's NYC Alumni Club, and working with Counseling and Psychological Services during Mental Health Awareness Week. When AΣN members delivered 'AΣN Milk and Cookies' late at night during finals, their fellow students' faces lit up as peers encouraged peers to study hard.

A panel of AΣN Board members and staff determined the Chapter of the Year winner. "Three things stood out for me in the Fordham application," said panelist Patrick Cain (Loyola Marymount '77), AΣN's Board president. "First, they seem to pay special attention to developing cohesiveness as a group. Secondly, they had an array of service projects that really got the students out into the community. And the Chapter events placed a special focus on relations with the Jesuit community."

The Award came at just the right time for Faculty Adviser Rosemary DeJulio, PhD (Fordham '07), "After being Faculty Adviser for close to a decade and about to retire and pass the baton, it was a wonderful and most grateful capstone to my 36 year career at Fordham. Moreover, though, it was a fitting tribute to a Chapter who has exponentially increased, not only awareness of AΣN on campus, but also the degree and diversity of the projects undertaken and adopted over subsequent years. Truly, the e-boards I have had the privilege to serve with have inspired members to do more and to be more - and became living examples of what it means to be men and women for others."

Executive Director Kate Gaertner (Marquette '04) presents the Chapter of the Year Award to Fordham University President Joseph McShane, SJ, Faculty Adviser Rosemary DeJulio, Fordham Chapter President Rachel Aguilar, and fellow Chapter members

"Thanks to the undying support of our adviser, the groundwork of past e-boards, and the meaningful mission of Alpha Sigma Nu, many people and groups were excited to collaborate with us. Our Chapter is as strong as it is today because of years of fostering relationships with local service groups, spreading the word about AΣN's mission, and producing quality events." Rachel Aguilar added.

Alpha Sigma Nu is grateful for Dr. DeJulio's service and for Fordham President Joseph McShane SJ's (Le Moyne '91) strong and visible support of the Chapter. 🍪

MAGIS MEDAL WINNERS

To celebrate the Alpha Sigma Nu tenets in this Centennial year, AΣN honors 100 members with the Alpha Sigma Nu Magis Medal. Magis, a key concept in Ignatian spirituality, does not simply mean "more," rather magis invites us to serve the world better, with fire, passion, and zeal to better glorify and serve God. The Magis Medal is awarded to those who exemplify scholarship, loyalty, and service in their work in the service of faith and the promotion of justice.

Nominations from AΣN member universities and AΣN staff research illuminated the outstanding contributions of members across the globe. "Our members inspire!" says Executive Director Kate Gaertner. "From all generations and from all schools, from Honduras to Southeast Asia, across Africa and South America and here in the United States, our members have seen the needs of the marginalized and worked to address them. On behalf of all members, we salute and thank these 100 models of magis."

Look for more information about the 100 Magis Medal awardees on the AΣN Centennial website at www.alphasigmanu.org/centennial, on the AΣN Facebook page, Twitter, and LinkedIn.
